"It is the same kind of machine about which we have received complaints from the parents of school children. the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7 .- The Italian nation, through its Ambassador, presented yesterday to the people of the United States a fountain in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. The gift, cepted by Secretary of State Kellogg and Secretary of the Treasure

Nobile Giacomo de Martino, Italian Ambassador at Washington, in presenting the fountain, which is a copy of the "Fountain of the Sea Horses" in the Borghese Gardens at Rome, said it would "bring to Philadelphia the voice of the Eternal City, to be united with the voice of that bell which, on the Fourth of July, 1776, announced to the world the liberty and independence of the American people." Court Overrules Motion to WASHINGTON, June 7 .- The Government and ediense rested late thi safternoon in the trial of Robert W. Stewart, chairman of he board of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, charged with refusing to answer questions asked by the Senate Teapot Dome Committee. The defense then sought to have the testimony of Senators Nye of North Dakota and Walsh of Montana stricken from the record, but was overruled.

Previously Justice Frederick L. Siddons had sustained the Government motion to strike out the testimony of Edward J. Bullock, vice president of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, that a quorum was not present when the committee ex amined Stewart.

The defense then moved that the Court direct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. The Court the meantime, had excused the ry until tomorrow morning. Arguments on the Government's notion to strike out defense testimony intended to show that the committee, which questioned Stewart, was not composed of a quo rum, were continued today.

Before the arguments started, notes of the hearing.

The defense sought to keep Senator Norris' testimony out of the record and thus eliminate evidence that a committee quorum was present when Stewart was examined.

for the name Retired British Naval Officer Financed by Americans, to Have Two Planes. By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 7. — Announcement of plans for a third aerial expedition to explore the Antarctic was made today. Douglas George Jeffrey, retired British naval commander and vet-eran of one of the South Pole expeditions of the late Sir Ernest Shackelton, announced he would head an expedition of about 25 men and two planes, leaving for the Antarctic in September and aft-er spending the South-Polar summer in exploration return in May.

Jeffrey said his expedition would in no way conflict with the ex-peditions of Commander Richard E. Byrd and Capt. George Wilkins, but would complement them. The expedition is being financed by Americans whose names are with-held. The commander has been in this country since March.

He expects to number among his party four other members of the Shackleton expedition. The four are Capt. Arthur Argles, navigator for Mabel Boll's projected flight to Europe; George Vilbert Dauglas of McGill University, Montreal, a geologist; Dr. A. H. Macklin of Dundee, Scotland, a surgeon, and J. W. S. Marr, of Aberdeen, Scotland, a biologist.
"While we may fly ever the Pole, the real purpose of our voyage will be to define the boundaries of Graham's Land, south toward the Ross Sea, and to learn whether it is a big continent or actually two or more bodies of land," Jeffrey said. "There is some scientific reason to believe that there are as yet undiscovered lands in that direction. Our base of op-erations will be about 1000 miles from the region in which Capt. Wilkins will be doing his Antarctic

On the east side of Graham's Land, where Jeffrey expects to make his base, he also will be widely separated from the Byrd expedition. He said he could probably co-operate with them in gathering and checking meteorological data and would be in communication with them by radio and perhaps by

One of the planes to be used is now being built. It will have a capacity of 1500 gallons of gasoline and a cruising radius of 6000 miles. The other will be a small amphibian plane. The ships to be used have not yet been purchased, but they probably will be of the deep-sea, mine-sweeper type.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post Dispatch. NEW YORK, June 7.—President Breadon said he was prepared to make any trades to strengthen the Cardinals while he is here to attend the league's summer meeting, but he spiked rumors of a swap with Boston, involving Tommy Thevenow.

"No chance for a trade for Thevenow." Breadon answered when asked about a report that Hornsby was angling for Tommy. "Maranville is doing nicely, while Thevenow is regaining his strength. Tommy had the flu in the spring and was playing when ould have been resting. However, when he returns to duty they'll never get him out of there again. He is a great star and I have not considered and will not consider any trade for him."

special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOSTON, June 7 .- An athletic marvel has been performed on Harold Cutbill, once known as the "Flying Parson" and one of the fastest milers that ever stepped on an American track.

Several months ago Cutbill, who retired from amateur competition seven years ago when charges of professionalism were brought against him, reported to Jack Ryder, member of the Olympic coach ing staff, and said he was deter mined to stage a comeback and make the Olympic team, since the charges were long ago disproved. Cutbill then weighed 180 pounds.

His body was soft and his muscles flabby, just as those of a country clergyman generally are. During the long layoff Cutbill had been devoting himself to his ministerial duties in a small rural parish at Boxford, Mass.

Ryder was amazed but he knew the gritty churchman and prescribed a course of training. Day after day and week after week Cutbill kept pounding around the Boston College track. During the early stages of his training his times would shame a high school freshman miler, but gradually the parson rounded into form. Doing Mile in 4:20.

Such jumping should get him into the finals at the stadium on July and 7, as Hubbard will qualify in the West and Bates of Pennsylvania State and Hamm of Georgia Tech have qualified in college meets this spring.

A three-game series between the yons and Adams public school aseball nines will be held to decide the Board of Education's graded school championship, it was announced today by A. E. Kindevater, head of the Physical Education Department.

The first game will be played tomorrow afternoon at 4 p. m. at High School Stadium and the second contest Monday at the same time and place. If a third game is required to settle the championship it will be played on Wednes-

The series is the culmination of the twenty-sixth season of the public school series, inaugurated by the Post-Dispatch in 1903 and turned over to the Board of Education about 12 years later.

More than 50 schools were repesented in the various groups and the champion of last year, the Madison school, was eliminated some days ago. Inclement weather handicapped the race and caused many shifts in schedule.

The winners of the championship will hold for one year the Post-Dispatch trophy, a silver shield three feet high on which the names of all previous winners are enrolled. No school thus far has been able to win the trophy per-manently by winning it three Structure, Bought at Herrick's Suggestion, Also Will House Consulate-General and Others.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, June 7.-The American Government has bought for $1,-50,000 one of the best located buildings in Paris, overlooking Place de la Concorde from the corer of Avenue Gabriel. It will be sed for the offices of the Amercan Embassy, the Consulate-General, the American Shipping Board and other official representatives. The building now houses a club, the Union Artistique.

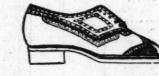

Myron T. Herrick, American Amassador, is thus realizing an idea he has had for several years-to house all the American Government offices under one roof. present arrangement of scattered offices entails a total rental which is considerably more than the interest charges will be on the price of a building large enough for all. Herrick put the project before the State Department two years ago. Later, while visiting America, he gave interviews on the subject and wrote various articles pointing out the economy and other advantages from a centralization of American offices. His suggestion was that the Government should have its own office buildings in Paris, London and Berlin.

The news of the sale of the building was g'ven out by the Union Artistique, the members of which voted to approve it at a meeting last night. The club was one of the most famous in Paris, but for a cause no gambling was permitted. From one of the windows of the buildings Prince Eglite watched the XVI, and Queen Antoinette.

Business Ethics

From the Chicago Tribune

N a letter written on March 3, 1925, by George E. Lewis, executive manager of the Rocky Mountain Public Utilities Information Committee to K. W. Kissick, manager of the Deming Ice and Electric Co. of Deming, N. M., this striking opinion

Had the utility industry not started its public relations work when it did, had it not inaugurated systematic newspaper advertising, educational activities in the high schools, colleges, universities and grade schools; had it not undertaken widespread speaking activities-in short had it not done the things that it has done within the past three years, we'd all be in a hell of a shape today.

The fears of the public utility industries were very much exaggerated. Granted that they had some reason for apprehension in the fact that their vast interests were based on natural monopolies, which are peculiarly exposed to public ownership movement had not been specially threatening in recent years. Public rate regulation by State commissions had done much to allay popular concern lest extortion in rates be practiced. The violence of the assaults on the large industrial combinations, or trusts, had notably subsided. Not even Prof. W Z. Ripley's attack on the financial structure of many of the pyramided utility combines had been made early in 1925. The war was followed by a period in which prosperity absorbed antimonopoly sentiment to a large extent, and this condition remains Yet the organized propaganda of the utility interests in recent years has been carried to lengths without precedent in expense and range.

Perhaps the explanation of the nervousness revealed by this far-reaching propaganda-extending to colleges, high schools, even grade schools, the critical examination of school textbooks, the maintenance of a costly corps of public speakers opposed to

"government in business" and very active public information bureaus-was to be found in the consciousness of the utility companies that they had developed enormous property holdings represented by bil-lions of dollars of securities sold to thousands of investors. The very high earnings might arouse popular jealousy with results not entirely favorable to the established system of private ownership. Yet the propaganda machine that was organized was sure eventually to be revealed to the public gaze. Now we know why the Walsh resolution for a public investigation was fought by the power companies so determinedly. There were things in their in-side economy that they wanted covered up.

They had gone in for propaganda on a seale involving an expenditure of many millions of dollars; they had attempted to "gas" the schools of America with their ininuations or charges that public ownership meant "radicalism," even "bolshevism " and that our republican institutions were almost at stake when a municipal power plant was established or a state-controlled power development corporation was created to develop natural resources. To have it all culminate in the exposure of these facts by unwilling witnesses under cross-examination by a Federal inquisitor is not helping the power companies nor damaging the public ownership idea.

So one may venture to differ from Mr. Lewis' opinion. It was his view that the propaganda machine, the cost of which has a charge on the rate payers or consumers had retarded the public ownership movement 100 per cent. Yet that gain is now being lost by current revelations. The tupidity of many features of the utility industry's campaign ought to be manifest. "We'd all be in a hell of a shape today," said Lewis proudly in March, 1925. Yet that sort of shape are they in three years Don't monkey with our public schools in

Five-Cet Fare Trebled.

"(6) Forfeiture provision: The forfeiture provision of the or-dinance as proopsed offers lit-tle protection to the city due to the control exercised by the Interstate Commerce Commission over common carriers doing an interstate business. The railroad knows this and the city also knows it, to its chagrin, by its experience when the original passenger street car fare over this company's bridge, though fixed by ordinance at 5 cents, was raised by the Interstate Commerce Commission to 15 cents.

"While these petitioners are in accord with the freight terminal plan of this railroad, they are unalterably opposed to this present franchise as amended, which creates a freight yard in the heart of North St. Louis, freight-carrying trains out of street railway lin dangerous grade crossing, indefinite obligations and destruction of property values.

Children happy-Milk of Magnesia in a delicious wafer

THIS new way of taking Milk of Magnesia is simply wonderful, it is so pleasant. Just a fragrant, "tasty" tablet, instead of the old-fashioned liquid dose. Now your children can be given Milk of Magnesia—and they will like it—in this new and better way. Yes, it is the purest Milk of Magnesia and each tablet is certified to be the same as two teaspoonfuls of the old-fashioned liquid kind.

Doctors and dentists say that a Milnesia Wafer is the better way for everyone because, as it slowly dissolves, it penetrates into every corner and crevice, sweetening and purifying the whole mouth.

So it neutralizes the acid conditions that attack the teeth and gums before it is taken slowly into the stomach to relieve indigestion

Mr. Paul C. Debry, President of Duplan Silk Corporation, has summarized in part his letter regarding the Corporation as follows. Copies of this letter may be had from the undersigned upon request.

"Duplan Silk Corporation occupies an unusual, and probably unique, position in the silk and rayon industry on account of the wide range of its activities. Founded originally to manufacture fine broad silks, it has since entered three other fields which have developed greatly in recent years. These are the weaving of rayon and Celanese fabrics, the processing and manipulation of silk and rayon yarns on commission for the account of other companies, and the sale of processed yarns to the trade. "Du-Ray" crepe, which is now being introduced, is the first all-rayon crepe to be manufactured in the United St. :es.

The Corporation is one of the most important weavers of fine piece-dyed broad silk, rayon, and mixed fabrics in the United States, and probably the largest processer and manipulator of rayon yarns in the world, which service work, done chiefly on commission for other manufacturers, has grown rapidly in volume.

Duplan Silk Corporation is the outgrowth of a business founded by Mr. J. L. Duplan to import French silks into the United States. In 1898 he and his associates incorporated the Duplan Silk Company to manufacture silks in this country. The present Corporation was organized in 1917. Three companies which had previously been partlyowned subsidiaries operating the plants at Kingston, Wilkes-Barre and Nanticoke, Pa., were recently merged into the Corporation.

The main plant at Hazleton is, in arrangement and general character, concentration of departments, and equipment of labor-saving dévices, one of the world's most efficient silk factories. Of the three other plants, two are engaged almost exclusively in service work for the trade. The other does weaving both for the Corposation and with materials belonging to others. These plants occupy a total of about 1,050,000 square feet of floor space and have a total of over 1675 looms and 144,000 spindles.

EARNINGS AND BALANCE SHEET

The combined net earnings of Duplan Silk Corporation (including the merged corporations) and its subsidiaries for the three years ending May 31, 1927, after all charges including adequate depreciation and Federal income taxes actually paid or provided for, as certified by Mesers. Net Profits 4s above $1,339,550.80 1,473,318.75 1,351,874.17

The combined net earnings for the ten months ending March 31, 1928 on the same basis and similarly certified were $838,820.28, or over 2.5 times the Preferred dividend requirements for the period, and equivalent, after deducting such requirements, to $1.44 per share on the Common Stock; and the management estimates that the combined net earnings on the same basis for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1928 were in excess of $1,000,000, or more than 2.49 times the Preferred dividend requirements for the full year, and equivalent, after deducting such requirements, to $1.71 per share on the Common Stock.

to $1.71 per share on the Common Stock.

The consolidated balance sheet of Duplan Silk Corporation and its subsidiaries as at March 31, 1928, giving effect as at that date to the merger of Puritan Silk Corporation, Dorranceton Silk Works, Inc., and Guaranty Silk Corporation with Duplan Silk Corporation, and to the issue and sale of 22,521 shares of Common Stock without par value, as certified by Mesers. Price, Waterhouse & Co., shows net tangible assets of $14,486,678.89, or over $289 per share of Preferred Stock presently to be outstanding, and equivalent, after deducting the par value of such Preferred Stock, to over $27 per share of Common Stock. Current assets amount to $8,388,714.10 as compared with current liabilities of $2,364,190.30, a ratio of over $5 to 1. The net current assets of $6,024,523.80 are the equivalent of over $120 per share of Preferred Stock presently to be outstanding."

A Nerve Cell, Once Destroyed, Is Gone Forever, But the Fiber Which Carries Sensations Can Be Renewed - Nerve Impulses Travel About 100 Feet Per Second.

E must carry our brief anatomical survey of the central nervous system a step further. Let us follow every connection of a single sensary fiber after it leaves the end-plate in the skin; The fiber runs along in a nerve bundle until it reaches its cell, which is in a spinal root ganglion lying just outside the spinal cord. Every nerve-cell has at least two fibers, axons and dendrites, as they are called, emerging from it, so that from one it can receive, by the other transmit, nervous activity. These two fibers in the sensory spinal root ganglion form a T-shape, one end of which we have just followed to the cell, the other of which leaves the cell and enters the spinal cord by the posterior nerve-root. Here it breaks up into a set of filaments which are in contact with a least a half-dozen other filaments coming from other nerve-cells.
It is important for us to understand what are the connections of the single sensory nerve-cell. One is immediate to a cell in the anterior or motor part of the gray matter of the cord. From this anteriorhorn cell a fiber goes out in a nerve to a muscle near that part plate from which we started is located. Here, then, is an immediate possible ne your response. If that sensory end-plate in the skin were irritated (burned, pinched), the impulse would travel along the ensory nerve, race through the cord level, be transferred to a motor nerve, and a muscle would pluck the irritated spot away from

Fish Straight from the Ocean to Your Table!

ALWAYS FRESH - NEVER FROZEN

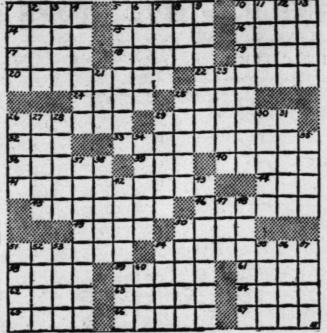

You can now enjoy choice ocean fish that is absolutely freeh. You can have prime deep-sea haddock—fish as sweet and tender and tasty as ever tumbled out of a net. "48-Fathom" is the trade name of fish which is caught by the Bay State Fishing Company's big fleet of steam trawlers, far out in the ocean. Each catch is carefully corted and only the choicest fish are served and only the choicest fish are selected for your table.

48-Fathom Haddock comes to you in the form of fillets—the clear white breasts and sides of the fish. Heads, tails, backbones and all waste are removed. Then these savory fish steaks are individually wrapped in parchment paper, iced and fast-expressed to your dealer. Ready to put on the fire and cook. A new, delicious shore delicacy on your table, whether you live near the sea or far inland.

Nothing is so unwise as buying second-grade fillets. Ask your butcher, grocer or fish dealer for 46-Fathom Fish, which is never frozen or preserved but always fresh and sweet—"the cream of the catch".— Bay State Fishing Company, 30 Fish
